¹ Students who complete INS 101 with a grade of C- or better will be given credit for POL 203.

² This includes any 500-level seminar offered by the Department of Political Science or cross-listed with Political Science. The following 500 level courses are not seminars and do not fulfill this requirement: POL 520, POL 521, POL 563, POL 564, POL 589, POL 590.

³ Please note that some courses cover more than one sub-field. Students may not, however, use a single class to fulfill multiple sub-field requirements.

⁴ Please note that for the Natural Science Area of Knowledge Requirement degree candidates must earn at least 3 credit hours in the Natural Sciences. Departments offering these courses include Anthropology (only APY 203), Biology, Chemistry, Ecosystem Science and Policy (only ECS 111, ECS 112, ECS 202), Geography (only GEG 120), Geological Sciences, Marine Sciences (except MSC 313, MSC 314), Physical Sciences, and Physics. These credit hours may double count with any other requirement.

* All majors must complete a quiz for graduating seniors (to be used for assessment purposes) during their last semester of coursework.

 To satisfy the Advanced Writing & Communication proficiency requirement, students majoring in political science must complete at least one of the four required writing-intensive courses in the Department of Political Science.

 A student may only share (i.e., "double count") maximally 6 credits between majors and minors offered by the Department of Political Science.

* To count toward the major, each course must be completed with a grade of C- or above, with an overall GPA of 2.0 or above.

The Quantitative Skills Proficiency Requirement helps students learn to use quantitative skills and tools to solve problems, including the interpretation, manipulation, and application of quantitative data. Students fulfill this requirement by completing either a Department of Mathematics course numbered MTH 108 (<https://bulletin.miami.edu/search/?P=MTH%20108>) Precalculus Mathematics II or higher, MTH 113 (<https://bulletin.miami.edu/search/?P=MTH%20113>) Finite Mathematics (recommended for non-STEM majors), or a statistics course approved by the student's college/school and the University Curriculum Committee in consultation with appropriate academic units.

Mission

The Department of Political Science (POL) is a community of scholars and students seeking a deeper understanding of politics, and fosters a commitment to lifelong learning, intellectual growth, and civic responsibility. POL is dedicated to helping students develop analytical abilities, communication skills, and the awareness of political processes in a complex global society. We provide students with rigorous training in the field of political science, and exposure to new knowledge through empirical social science research.

Goals

Political science majors gain an understanding of American political and legal life, the workings of other countries' political and economic systems, the relations among countries in the international arena, and key concepts in both political philosophy and social science methodology.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will develop knowledge of key political science concepts.
- Students will develop the ability to analyze evidence and draw reasoned conclusions.
- Students will develop the ability to communicate clearly in written form.
